Dear Parents and Carers,

Comic Relief Day

There have been some very interesting and creative hairstyles in school today! Thank you to everybody who has participated and made a contribution to Comic Relief which raised £160.

Mothering Sunday

We wish all lovely mothers a particularly happy day on Sunday and hope you get the recognition for all that you do. Thank you to Reception class for leading our Mothers' Day assembly today for their first own sharing assembly - they are very excited!

Parent Consultations and Meetings We have had parent consultations and a spelling support meeting this week. Positive feedback suggests that you have found these parental meetings helpful. Thank you to those who have given such positive feedback, including some very appreciative emails.

World Down Syndrome Day

On Tuesday, we celebrated UN World Down Syndrome Day. It is held on March 21st every year, a date chosen to represent the arrangement of chromosomes which creates the condition (third month, 21st day, 3 copies, 21st chromosome). Year 1 celebrated by all wearing odd socks. Odd socks are worn to celebrate that we are all different and yet the same. Their enthusiasm was wonderful to see and they proudly educated other members of the school when asked why they were wearing them. Well done and thanks to everyone who joined in our efforts to celebrate this year.

Rock Challenge storage We have some big scenery that we need to store - for quite some time. Before we start looking into sheds, it might be worth enquiring whether anybody has any storage space that we would be able to use. Please contact the school office if you are able to help.

Parking There are still parents parking on the zigzag lines outside school. Please note, the sign clearly states that stopping there is prohibited between 8am and 5pm - and this includes when picking up from after school clubs. Photographic evidence has been sent to our local PCSO, who has the authority to impose fines.

FOSP News There will be another Happy Bag collection shortly after we return from the Easter break so please don't get rid of old clothes and materials just yet. Also, don't forget our easy fundraising when you do online shopping on:
